

Children's Hospital Unique Employee Profile Study

Press Ganey and Children's Hospital Association

To ensure your organization provides the best possible patient care, you and other children's hospitals strive to improve care provider experience by focusing on employee health, wellness and resiliency. Understanding where to target limited resources is an ongoing challenge. Children's Hospital Association and Press Ganey want to help. A study of employee engagement surveys, combined with CHA member hospital data will demonstrate where children's hospitals have unique opportunities to design programs that help their employees be healthier and more productive.

Participation is easy. There is no cost to your organization, and data will be blinded. You just need to authorize Press Ganey to use your most recent engagement survey data in an invitation-only study that aims to better understand children's hospital employee engagement and stress. Please note that the study will only be conducted if we obtain a minimum of 10 participating groups. The results of this study will allow CHA to understand trends and areas of deviation across the member organizations and will illuminate insights beyond what you would receive by viewing your individual Press Ganey report.

ACTION: Please have a member of your team review the attached Data Use Agreement and send in your signed authorization by February 28, 2018.
